

Bridging to Tomorrow Update (February 12, 2016)

Project Officially Launched!

While work on the Traffic Bridge has already begun, federal, provincial and City officials have now formally declared the North Commuter Parkway project construction underway.

Quick Facts:

- The bridge projects will create the equivalent of 600 year-long jobs.
- About 175 people will be working on the project at the peak of construction.
- Over 1 million hours of work will go into building the new bridges.
- Most new jobs created are slated to go to local residents.
- Bridge designers and subcontractors are locally hired.
